Christianity? Everyone wants to live a happy life - that is why he strives again wealth, honor, power, family, academic achievement, good healthy, etc...But what one obtains from these things of the world is like mirage. The worldly happiness is only transitory and not of eternal nature. Human beings strive to grasp this elusive happiness only to fall down exhausted. At the end of the day when man is about to depart this life, he realizes and confesses that "life is futile." Then what makes Christian's life truly happy? The answer is to live according to the Creator's purpose of creation. God created the world so that He will receive praise and glory. Since the purpose of creating us was such, we human beings can only be truly happy when we live according to this purpose of creation. Because this happiness is directly given by our Creator God, this joy from God is beyond human expression, and it is great, profound and eternal. Indonesia translation
Setiap orang ingin hidup

bahagia, itulah sebabnya ia berjuang untuk mendapatkan kekayaan, kehormatan, kekuasaan, keluarga, prestasi akademik, kesehatan yang baik, dan sebagainya. Tetapi seseorang yang mendapatkan hal-hal dari dunia ini adalah seperti khayalan belaka. Kebahagiaan dunia ini hanya bersifat sementara dan tidak abadi. Manusia berjuang untuk mendapatkan kebahagiaan semu tersebut, dan mereka akan menjadi penat/lelah. Pada akhirnya ketika manusia terpisah dari hidupnya, dia menyadari dan mengakui bahwa :hidup adalah sia-sia." Jadi apa yang membuat hidup seorang Kristen benar-benar bahagia? Jawabannya adalah hidup menurut tujuan penciptaan Sang Pencipta. Allah menciptakandunia agar Dia menerima pujian dan kemuliaan. Karena tujuan menciptakan kita adalah seperti itu, kita manusia hanya bisa menjadi benar-benar bahagia ketika hidup menurut tujuan penciptaan. Karena kebahagiaan ini secara langsung diberikan oleh Allah Sang Pencipta kita, sukacita ini dari Allah melebihi segala ekspresi manusia, dan itu sangat besar, dalam dan abadi.

Image and Word in the Theology of John Calvin - Randall C. Zachman 2007

In his groundbreaking new study of the Swiss reformer, Randall C. Zachman reveals and analyzes John Calvin's understanding of image and word both comprehensively and chronologically, with attention to the way that each theme develops in Calvin's theology. For most scholars, John Calvin (1509-1564) insisted on the essential invisibility of God in order to deny that God could be represented in any kind of visible image. This claim formed one of his foundational arguments against the display of man-made images in worship. Given the transcendence of God, Calvin rejected the human attempt to create signs and symbols of God's presence on earth, especially the statues, images, and paintings present in Roman Catholic churches. Zachman argues, in contrast, that although Calvin rejects the use of what he calls dead images in worship, he does so to focus our attention on the living images of God in which the invisible God becomes somewhat visible. Word of God to clarify their meaning; we are only led to the true knowledge of God when we hold together the living images of God that we see with the Word of God that we hear. This combination of seeing and hearing pervades Calvin's theology, from his understanding of the self-revelation of God the Creator to his development of the self-manifestation of God the Redeemer in Jesus Christ. According to Zachman, Calvin maintains the same linking of seeing and hearing in our relationships with other human beings: We must always hold together what we see in others' gestures and actions with what we hear in their words, so that the hidden thoughts of their hearts might be manifested to us. Zachman's nuanced argument that Calvin holds image and word, manifestation and proclamation, in an inseparable relationship is relevant to all the major themes of Calvin's theology. It constitutes a highly significant and surprising contribution to our knowledge of the Reformation and an invitation to further study of theological aesthetics.
